

Minister Jeanine Watson

Jeanine Watson is no stranger to Grace and has been a member since she was 8 years old. She has always had a passion for children and at the age of twelve was told that she had an exceptional gift for working with young people.

In 2009, Jeanine finally accepted her gift and became a teacher and continues to work as an autistic support teacher within the Philadelphia School District. Jeanine's love for children is not just seen within her classroom.

In 2009 she accepted the challenge of directing the youth programs here at Grace. Jeanine currently enjoys mentoring a new group of youth leaders and enjoys being a part of the Women's Ministry Leadership Team.

She has a desire to share the message of God's grace and mercy with anyone that she meets.

While she is still seeking the Lord's direction for what's next, she knows that God isn't through with her yet!
